Altair Global Relocation Is Now a Management-Owned Company

PLANO, TX (December 21, 2012) – Altair Global Relocation announced today that it has been acquired by its senior management team and McCarthy Capital Fund V, a private investment firm based in Omaha, Nebraska. Altair co-founder and Chief Executive Officer, Gail Plummer, will retain a significant ownership interest in the company, along with the existing senior management team. Altair will continue to operate with the same service focus and values that have made the company so successful.

"We are extremely pleased to have McCarthy Capital as an equity partner," said Ms. Plummer. "Their involvement, along with the commitment of our existing management team, is a positive move forward that will facilitate our ability to continue to grow the company and to expand Altair's capabilities globally."

Effective immediately, Ms. Plummer will serve as Chairman Emeritus. Dennis O'Gara will assume the role of Chief Executive Officer. Chad Sterling will now be Chief Financial Officer and Chief Operating Officer.

"The same employees and management team who have been responsible for our past successes will continue to lead the company into the future. Their leadership, along with the support of McCarthy Capital, strengthens our commitment to invest in our people, services, and technology," stated Mr. O'Gara.
